Second Announcement (January 31, 2007)

Workshop dates

The workshop dates were fixed. The International Workshop on Electron Cloud Effects (ECLLOUD07) will be held in Daegu, Korea from April 9-th to 12-th, 2007. The length of the workshop is 4 days, from Monday to Thursday.

Registration and abstract submission

The deadline for registration and abstract submission is extended up to February 16 (Friday), 2007. Instruction of registration and submission can be found in the workshop web site <http://chep.knu.ac.kr/ecloud07>. The registration fee is being in the final negotiation with the hotel. The registration fee is found in the next announcement.

Hotel reservation

The workshop will take place in the InterBurgo Hotel (<http://hotel.inter-burgo.com/>) in Daegu, Korea. We have reserved 50 rooms in two buildings, the ANNEX (old) and the MAIN (new) building. The prices are 100,000 or 120,000 Korea won for the ANNEX and the MAIN building rooms, respectively. The price is available for the nights of Sunday-Thursday, April 8-12.

For more information and reservation, please visit to <http://ehotel.inter-burgo.com>. The reservation system of the hotel, which did not work last week, is available now. And, although there is not clear description on the discounted hotel charges in the hotel reservation web page, the participants will be automatically considered as special priced guests if they write "Ecloud07 participants" in the Remark box in the hotel reservation web page. If there is some problem, reservation requesting via "ecloud@knu.ac.kr" will be accepted.

Travel information

The travel information is found in the workshop web page. If you have questions, please mail to the workshop contact (ecloud@knu.ac.kr). Shuttle bus service from the Daegu International Airport to the hotel is available. More information will be found in the next announcement.
